Admission to The Sunflower Federation is in accordance with 'The Children and Families Act (2014)' legislation relating to children and young people with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND). The School Admissions Code ('the Code') was issued in 2014 under Section 84 of the School Standards and Framework Act 1998.

Parents are fully involved in all stages of their child's education, health and care assessment, and their views, together with the views of all professionals concerned are considered carefully.

All pupils attending The Sunflower Federation schools require a Statement of Special Educational Needs or an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP). The Sunflower Federation is able to offer assessment placements for those children that are in the process of EHCP completion; these placements are agreed in consultation with Hertfordshire Local Authority (LA) and are subject to suitability and student vacancies at the schools.

In 2012 the LA re-designated all schools for students with severe learning difficulties to encompass with Profound and Multiple Learning Difficulties (PMLD) and Autism.

Hertfordshire LA is the placing authority and it is their decision as to whether a child receives a place at one of the Sunflower Federation schools. Head teachers from a range of special schools attend the Provision Panels to support the LA in their decision making process. This has helped to give schools greater involvement in the placing process.

In line with the LA transport policy, children are admitted to their nearest suitable school unless there are other considerations which are considered on an individual basis. Parental wishes are considered, as well as the views of the schools with the regards to areas such as staff expertise, class dynamics and the pressure of numbers.

The Banded model of funding introduced in April 2008 has no bearing on placements.

The Sunflower Federation comprises two schools that provide specialist provision for their students:

Breakspeare School caters for students with severe and profound learning difficulties. Students are admitted on a part time basis 15 hours per week (nursery) until they reach compulsory school age (reception), at which stage they attend full time.

Students can remain at the school until a suitable leaving date after their 19th birthday. As the majority of students go on to attend a course at a further education college the usual leaving date is at the end of the summer term, for a September start at college. Where students move on to day centres or health establishments, the student could leave at the end of the term in which they are 19. Any student can leave school once the statutory school leaving age has been reached.

A new student can be admitted to Breakspeare School at any age, between 3 - 19.

Meadow Wood School is a primary school which offers placements for students with physical and neurological impairments from early years, age 3, up to age of 10/11 (year 6). Students' attainment varies from below and at National Curriculum levels. The students' transition to their secondary placement is carefully tailored: students may transfer to SLD, PNI or other settings that meet their educational and physical needs.

A new student can be admitted to Meadow Wood School at any age, between 3 - 11.

The LA uses a specific admission guidance on admissions to special schools.

When considering a placement in SLD schools such as Breakspeare School, the LA gathers information on the child's special educational needs from a range of professionals including educational psychologists, therapists and from the previous provision. This information provides the LA with information relating to;

- The severity and extent of a child's learning difficulty and global developmental delay
- Any additional needs such as an autistic spectrum condition or communication difficulties
- Sensory impairment
- Social interaction and understanding
- Associated challenging behaviour
- Self-help skills and awareness of danger
- Related physical difficulties
- Related medical difficulties including those with life-limiting conditions
- Fine and gross motor skills
- Multi-sensory needs
- Medical needs
- Sensory integration difficulties
- Learning style

Where there has been standardised testing of cognitive functioning, children and young people will be assessed as being at or below the 1st percentile. Pre-school age children will be functioning at significantly below their chronological age, i.e. below half their chronological age in most areas of development. They may have an inconsistent development profile.

Children and young people at Breakspeare School require a highly differentiated and personalised curriculum to meet their significant profile of need as the opportunities for independent learning and activities are limited.

When considering a placement in Meadow Wood School, the LA will gather information from the child's special educational needs from many professionals such as educational psychologist, different therapists and the previous provision. This information provides the LA with a wide range of information about the child's learning, care and health needs.

Children and young people attending a setting for Physical and Neurological Impairment (PNI) will have severe physical difficulties as their main presenting need. Their impairment may be caused by injury, illness, a congenital condition or genetic disorder. They may have little control over their physical functioning, and their impairment may have a severe or profound effect upon their ability to access learning and as a result their attainment and achievement at school. These children and young people may also have a range of other needs associated with their physical difficulties which may include sensory impairments or an additional neurological impairment such as epilepsy.

- All children and young people will require a physical curriculum to support their learning and the development of their physical, communication and cognitive skills.
- Some children and young people may have difficulties with speech, language and communication and require the use of alternative or augmentative approaches and aids to support their communication.
- Some children and young people may have difficulties with swallowing, feeding and drinking, and may require a gastrostomy tube to enable their nutritional needs to be met.
- They may also have significant health needs which require regular or continuous medical intervention.
- They may also be dependent on others for some or all of their personal care and travel needs.

For younger children it may initially be difficult to determine the true level of their cognitive functioning. Whilst it can be difficult in the early years to establish whether the main presenting need ~~of~~ is PNI or SLD, this is usually clearer at the time of transition from Key Stage 1 to Key Stage 2 or at secondary transfer. Where a child at secondary transfer meets the guidance for placement in an SLD school, then placement in a secondary PNI specialist provision is not usually suitable.

The Sunflower Federation's statement on high quality provision and outcomes for children and young people with SEND. The special educational needs and disability (SEND) Code of Practice (2015) requires all local authorities to describe the special educational provision it expects to be available for children and young people who have SEND.

The response of the Sunflower Federation to those requirements:

The SEND Code of Practice (2015) says that we must:

- Have regard to the principles underpinning the code of practice to ensure the views, wishes and feelings of the child or young person, and the child's parents, are central to achieving the best possible educational and other outcomes.
- Use our best endeavours to make sure that all children with SEN get the support they require.
- Publish and update at least annually the SEN information report.

Our Vision relating to SEND local offer is;

'All children and young people at The Sunflower Federation Schools have access to high quality local provision that meets their needs.'

- In the Sunflower Federation Schools the duties of the SENCO are carried out by the Head teacher.
- There is full time nursing cover to ensure that children with medical conditions get the support required.
- The schools caters for pupils with learning difficulties and physical disabilities. Our accessibility plan shows how we plan to improve access over time.
- The Sunflower Federation co-operates fully with the LA in the education, health and care plan review process and in reviewing the provision that is available locally (Chapter 3) and in developing the Local Offer.

Our Jointly Agreed Commitments:

- Every child and young person will have their needs identified and assessed.
- Every child and young person is entitled to high quality provision appropriate for her or his individual needs.
- The Sunflower Federation Schools and the LA have a shared accountability for ensuring children and young people achieve good outcomes.
